

SOCIETY.

Few Large Entertainments Since the Holidays
--Club Meetings and Card Parties--Events of the Present Week--Notes.

Last week was much lighter in the way of social events. With the exception of two gatherings of size and importance the Smith-Fryers and the Wells-Bairtings, both on Wednesday, and a scattering of card parties, society is in a state of inertia, probably the pleasure-seekers from state and city having been invited to their homes by their friends, while those who have come to town during the holidays.

This week promises several events that will be interesting. The rainy weather will have its influence on Monday. The Mead's Club will give on Tuesday night for the first time this season a concert, featuring the vocal soloists of the Columbia Glee Club. There will also be a card party at Mrs. John C. Moore's, State 10th street, on Wednesday evening, and a card party at Mrs. John C. Moore's, 10th and Locust, on Thursday. Mrs. Thompson's Sunday luncheon on Friday for friends will be a large affair.

INFORMAL ENTERTAINMENTS.

The Elks' Roaring Club held its last meeting of the season at Mrs. E. T. Turner's, 10th and Locust, on Saturday afternoon, with refreshments at 4 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. George W. Muller and Mr. and Mrs. John C. Moore were present.

Mrs. Al. Waggoner of Washington place entertained the消声器 and intimates of her daughter, Miss Stella Martin, who has just returned from Europe. The girls were presented in suitable attire. The central table was covered with a white cloth and the chairs with blue cloths. The refreshments were served in the dining room, where a number of vocal selections were given by Charles Julian, Eugene McGill and D. J. Casey.

after which the young folks indulged in a game. Among the present were Misses Elizabeth and Anna Smith, Sarah Hubbard, Mamie Felt, Genevieve Morris and Margaret Chaffin, Eugene McGill, D. J. Casey, P. K. A. Walker.

Miss Sophie Brokmeier and J. A. Jackson.

Mr. Al. Waggoner of Washington place entertained the消声器 and intimates of his daughter, Miss Stella Martin, who has just returned from Europe. The girls were presented in suitable attire. The central table was covered with a white cloth and the chairs with blue cloths. The refreshments were served in the dining room, where a number of vocal selections were given by Charles Julian, Eugene McGill and D. J. Casey.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson and J. A. Jackson.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson and J. A. Jackson.